

It has come to my attention that there is a proceeding before the FCC with respect to a petition on behalf of the CBA challenging Indiana's Privacy Law to impose the federal "established business relationship exemption" on Indiana consumers. I am extremely happy with Indiana's Telephone Privacy Program. The program has offered relief from a multitude of annoying and harrassing telemarketers and I believe its success has spoken for itself. I never do business with telemarketers anyway, so why impose on me. Please leave my privacy to myself. I am in total opposition to the CBA petition as it is not in my best interest, nor the interests of the consumers of Indiana who have made it very clear they want their privacy protected by the Indiana Telephone Privacy Program.
